The parties now took position—ten steps, to wheel and fire; arms, Deringer pistols. At one report, both men fell to the earth. But the Captain was soon up, being only stunned by concussion—the ball having passed directly beneath his ear. Mr. Farquir was shot through the face, cutting off a part of the tongue. The whole party soon returned to Paris and have been kept out of the way of the police. Farquir kept on all his clothing at the time of fighting; in fact he was confident of success, and nothing but his swollen face saved the Captain's life, for he is a sare shot, or was. His wound is terribly bad. He will never be able to speak so as to be understood. The hand of Providence has been heavily laid upon him. KENTUCKIANS. - Those who have read the history of Modern Europe have not failed to notice the disastrous results that have always kept attendance, in the different empires, upon the anti-war parties who kept up their antiwar policy during the existence of hostilities. The people look with a jealous eye upon those who manifest in any way an unwillingness to maintain the supremacy of their country, their institutions, and their laws. Among the Greeks, through many centuries, it was held as an article of national faith that existence was intolerable without a country, and in that term was comprehended not only their native soil, but the institutions of their choice. Horace expressed the universal feeling of his countrymen when he said "it is sweet to die for one's country." Among our English ancestry these sentiments of love of country have ever prevailed, and they have come to us among the heir-looms derived from the Anglo-Saxon race. A notable illustration of this British sentiment and of the American feeling occured in the history of the English contest with the first Napoleon, and in the last war between this country and Great Britain. In 1783 the youthful Pitt was made Premier Great Britain and entered upon that raining that was to fit him for a contest with the French Empire under the leadership of That contest lasted seventeen years and Great Britain had to bear the brunt of it. The war party, the mangement of hosarrayed the most remarkable opposition, for talents and position, that ever assailed a Government. Charles James Fox, Edmund Burke, and R. B. Sheridan were the conspic uous leaders of the anti-war party and for years they blazed away at the war policy of Pitt with an electric power of eloquence scarcely ever surpassed. In looking at the material upon which they based their opposition, it is almost inconceivable how they failed, nor can of that inherent love of country which enables a people to bear all evils that may be essential dens sustained by the English people as the cost of their war with France. The anto her war with France was $70,140,000. In 1797, four years afterwards, the addition to the public debt was $350,000,000, and for eighteen years there was a regular increase of loans and taxes. In 1815 Great Britian raised by taxation nearly $450,000,000. Between the years 1811 and 1815 the average exports from Great Britain and Ireland were $210,of loans and taxes for those periods was was $30 50 for each man, woman, and child in the Kingdom. And during that time her population was nearly five millions less than nat of the loyal portions of the United States. Only about eight per cent, of these burdens was laid upon the lands and property of the empire, while the remaining ninety-two per cent, of this enormous burden was levied upon the industry and consumption of the country. Articles of universal and necessary consumption and raw products imported for manufacture were made to bear 92-100 of this enormous expenditure. The result may be judged from the fact that the poor rates were nearly doubled, amounting to almost $40,000,000 per annum, a fact more elequent than any description of the misery and destitution which prevailed. How unequal this taxation was will be further manificate. om the amount yielded by the taxes on some of the most serious disturbances in its financial ffairs, and the chapter which records them is robably the most wonderful illustration ever iven of the powerful forces which machinery and avention have introduced into modern civilization; of the blindness, and perversity, and stupid lundering of governors, and of the endurance and it is also suffering of a people. The Home Guards lost one man killed and four wounded. The rebel loss was twelve killed and JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 14, 1861.

A letter from Cairo dated the 13th says: to be 26,000 in number, and, as before reported, principally at Columbus, but some on the Missouri shore. He also said that two hundred were killed in the masked batteries the day before by the fire from the gunboats. (The rebel leaders acknowledge sixty-eight killed in their official reports.) Another ancient item that he also brought, was, that the men of Dixie were sadly in need of shoes and clothing, and had adopted the former Eastern method of rallying by fours, bringing the backs together when visitors approached. This is all the late news from this direction.

A report, which I cannot trace to any reliable source, is abroad, to the effect that the rebel steam tug Yankee was found by a gunboat to-day, in a disabled condition, and sunk. The Republican adds:

We learn that on Monday night last, whilst a Government steamer was proceeding up the Missouri river from Lexington, conveying a number of prischers to Fort Leavenworth for better security, sie broke her rudder at a place between Blue Mill and Kansas City, and was compelled to land. Shorth after reaching the security of the secur to land. Shortly after reaching the shore, she was boarded by a Jackson county company of secessionists, who seized the boat, released the secessionists, who seized the boat, released the prisoners.—S. Withers among them—and secured about forty Federal soldiers as captives.

The Lucerty (Mo.) Tribune has a letter from Col. John T. Hughes, of the rebel army, which is issued in an extra, reporting that a few days ago the secession forces drove Gen. Lane and his com-mand into Kansas, with twelve killed, thirty or forty wounded, and thirty-five taken prisoners. He states that but two or three were killed and sixteen wounded on the secession side.

[From the Wheeling Intelligencer of Sept 12.] EXCITING NEWS FROM ROANE AND WIRT COUNTIES.—Gentlemen who arrived yesterday from Roane county report that they have recent-ly had very exciting times in Roane and Wirt counties. Major Slemmer, of Gen. Rosecrans' counties. Major Slemmer, of Gen. Rosecrans' staff, was sent down to Spencer with a force sufficient to clean out the secesh of that vicinity. Unfortunately, the coming of Slemmer was ascertained by the rebels, and they managed to escape the vicinity of Spencer. The latter part of last week, however, Slemmer encountered a considerable force of secessionists in Wirt county, about ten miles from Burning Springs, and after skirmishing with them for two days caused them to beat a retrest with a loss of fifteen killed. Lieut. McClosky, of the Union company from Ri'chie county, was shot in the abdomen, and, Lieut. McClocky, of the Union company from Richie county, was shot in the abdomen, and, after lingering about twenty-four hours, died. The Union forces then burned the house of Peter Seiburgh, a prominent secession leader, and also the house of another rebel, whose name we did not learn. Both of the houses were fortified. Two rebels who had taken the oath of allegiance, and were county with a rms in their hands were and were caught with arms in their hands, were taken out and shot. Two more men, caught under similar circumstances, were to have been shot the next day. Major Slemmer, in marching through Roane county, found eight dead men in an obscure thicket. It was not known whether the state of Union and Glassware. he bodies were those of Union men or rebels. Isjor Slemmer is satisfied that the rebels have signal rockets, by which they warn one another of the approach of his force. They also have a signal like the hooting of an owl, which is very advantageously used. By these, and similar means, they are enabled to elude the pursuit of er's command, and to scatter into small Dawes, S. F., corner 4th and Jefferson sts.

The military authorities at Parkersburg are McHarry, F., Main st., bet. 7th and 8th sts. The military authorities at Parkersourg are tightening the lines upon the rebels, and have inaugurated means to crush out the rebellion in that part of the country. No man is permitted to leave the town without a pass, and without first taking the oath of allegiance. Guards are placed upon all the roads leading from the town.

Mijor Slemmer has taken possession of the town of Spencer, in Roane county, and made it his headquarters.

PROGRESS OF GEN S. PRICE.—Authentic information has been received at Jefferson and in this city that General S. Price, at the head of eleven thousand men, was advancing on Lexing-ton. A portion of his forces did actually arrive at Warrensburg on Tuesday last, and the whole army was expected to enter that place on that rmy was expected to enter that place on that day. Warrensburg is the county seat of Johnson county, and is thirty-seven miles from Lexington, whither Price is hastening, with what object we cannot divine. Lexington is the heart of a rich country, and it may be that Gen. Price desires to possess himself of the intrenchments erected by the United States troops there, and thereby enable him to recuperate his Commissary and Quartermaster's Departments, up to this time not in a very flourishing state. Gen. Price has 11,000 men under his command, and he may be joined by 3,000 or 4,000 under Martin Green, who has under the country of t men under his command, and he may be joined by 3,000 or 4,000 under Martin Green, who has unquestionably crossed the river, leaving the Northeast to take care of itself. Gen. Price has with him also some twelve or fifteen pieces of artillery. Against this force the United States troops at Lexington do not number more than 2,000, but, as they are intrended and have quite as most as they are intrenched and have quite as many pieces of artillery as the enemy, they will undoubtedly defend themselves in the expectation of relief from some quarter. If General Pope is advised of the approach of Price upon Lexington, he will at once see the propriety of marching to the relief of that city, and will, no doubt, do it. We have assurances that the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad is now in a condition to travel upon it, and General Pope can transport his men to a point only about forty-five miles distant from Lexington. Forced marches may bring his troops to that city in time to protect it from the enemy. If we mistake not, one or two regiments, from Jefferson City, have been marching for a week or two past in the direction of Lexington. Well armed and disciplined, as these troops now are, if they can be concentrated, they can drive back the rebels, and very soon they will be driven out as they are intrenched and have quite as many the rebels, and very soon they will be driven out of the State.—St. Louis Republican, 14th.

TROUBLE ON THE FRONTIER.—Late advices from the frontier represent that five thousand Indians are encamped on the forks of the Republican river, Kansas, and are perpetrating constant outrages upon the property and persons of pioneer settlers. It is said that extensive robberies have repeatedly been committed, and that several families have been murdered. The Omaha Nebraskian of the 5th inst, makes loud complaint respecting this painful condition of affairs, and implores the speedy interposition of the government. From other sources, intelligence of the same startling purport and cries for relief reach us. Doubtless the matter has already been fully brought to the attention of the national authority.

Teles, who have taken the necessary step in the case. Nobra ka has furnished three companies of cavalry for suppressing the rebellion, and Kansas has thus early won imperishable laurels by the bravery of her regiments in the field. The government cannot, therefore, lose an instant or spare say needed affort in reliaving our frontier settlers.

RAWSON, ORRIN, 338 Main street. any needed effort in relieving our frontier settlers from the terror and mischief inflicted by vindicitive Indian hordes. The troubles of the country will tend to embolden these semi-barbarians to gather in great numbers for pillage and slaughter. Their first demonstrations should therefore be summarily and signally punished, that immensely increased cost to us and suffering to them may be spared hereafter.—St. Louis Democrat, 14th.

TROT AT OXFORD PARK-FLORA TEMPLE AND sembled yests day at Oxford Park, above Frankford, to witness a trotting match for a purse of $1,000, between the mare Flora Temple, entered by her present owner, James McMann, and the horse Morgan, formerly Medoc, entered by Jas. Turner. Medoc is a large horse, sixteen hands high, that has trotted four times before with Flora, always heaten but so well matching her Flora Temple, entered by Jas. high, that has trotted four times before with Flora, always beaten, but so well matching her that some hopes were entertained of his success in the present trot. The little bay won the pole at tossing up, and a beautiful start was made at four o'clock. At the quarter pole Flora was a half length ahead, and she steadily increased the distance until, at the end of the two miles, she crossed the pole about two lengths in advance, making the heat in 5 minutes 3 seconds.

The second heat was trotted in 5 minutes 3½ seconds, Morgan keeping up well, lapping Flora at the three quarter pole on the second mile. The mare was evidently not put to her speed, it being Seizure of Southern Funds in Boston.—We understand from an authentic source that the total amount of Southern funds seized in this city, yesterday, by the United States Marshal, reached fifty thousand dollars, the greater portion of which was found in the hands of the Southern Steamship Compuny. Of the whole amount thirty-five thousand dollars were in the shape of Treasury notes. The funds will be held by Government until the close of the war, when, if the owners are and have been loyal men, it will be restored to their use and custody.

ENCAMPMENT AT ASHLAND, Ky.—It having been announced that the Government designed establishing various camps in Kentucky, and had selected Ashland as one of the points, much interest is felt by our citizens on the subject, the large majority of whom are very anxious that the Government should carry out their original design. There is not a place in the State presenting greater natural advantages or where supcommodate a large number and is one of the most beautiful places in nature.—Sandy Valley Adv.

AN ASTONISHING DISCLOSURE!

A Key to the Disunion Conspiracy!

JUST PUBLISHED.

A Key to the Disunion Conspiracy

ENTITLED THE PARTISAN LEADER. A Novel By Beverly Tucker, of Virginia. Screttly printe by the celebrated Duff Green, at Washington, in the year 1836, for circulation in the Southern States, an among disunionists, but immediately suppressed by the enemies of the National Union.

This actonishing book, in the garb of a brilliant and fascinating work of fiction, was secretly printed in 1836 with a fictitious imprint, and date of 1839, purporting the head in the printed in 1836 with a factitious imprint, and date of 1839, purporting the head of the which had taken place during the previous twenty gears. In it are depicted, with unerring and prophetic accuracy, the whole of the present disspine conspiracy, narrating the very events which are this day transpiring throughout the Enited States of America.

Every friend of the Union should read and profit by its disclosures. The South will learn how thoroughly its inhabitants have been the dupes of a few ambitious and reckless demagogues. The smazing and monstress conspiracy which it develops is absolutely stupefying, but the book itself carries conviction on its own face.
